

October 28, 2010

Ms. Neela Johnston
Meeting & Special Events Planner
American Association of School Librarians
50 East Huron Street
Chicago, IL 60611-2795

Dear Ms. Johnston,

The Kentucky Library Association Executive Board is excited to hear that AASL is considering Lexington, Kentucky as the site of the 2015 AASL National Conference & Expo. I am confident that Lexington and the Bluegrass state can offer your members an unique and pleasurable experience. We are well known for our southern hospitality, beautiful horse farms, and outstanding cuisine.

Lexington was the host of the 2010 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games this month, with over 500,000 attendees from 58 countries. This experience gives Lexington and Kentucky significant experience in hosting international and national conferences.

The Kentucky Library Association Executive Board voted to support the 2015 AASL National Conference & Expo in Lexington, Kentucky. If Lexington is chosen, please feel free to contact KLA if you need further information about our wonderful state. Our knowledge of and contacts within Kentucky might be a benefit to your organization. Thank you for considering Lexington as a host city.

Sincerely,

Leoma Dunn
President, Kentucky Library Association

cc: Sandy Johnson, Lexington Convention and Business Bureau