Library Awareness

Annual Report

October 1, 2008

Louisville, Kentucky

What a great year this has been. We had a great Legislative Day, meeting with more legislators than usual. Once again, each Section sent at least one representative, giving us a record number of delegates, 14 representing ALL types of libraries.

We had a banner advertising our fall conference for six weeks on American Libraries Direct, ALA's online newsletter.

We had many great nominations for our annual awards. Thanks to all the Section Chairs and Chair-Elects for choosing great candidates for each award.

I continue to look for ways to promote libraries and more importantly, librarians. Please let me know of any accomplishment or recognition you or others attain.
