A Roundtable in these Extraordinary Times?

Johan Koren, Information & Technology Round Table Chair

The Information and Technology Round Table was created “to advance information and technology in Kentucky libraries” and “to provide peer support through the sharing of ideas and concerns.” Although membership has remained high, participation has declined in recent years. Is it time to dissolve or to find a new purpose? This session will also serve as the ITRT Business meeting.

- The business meeting took place as part of the above session, scheduled for Friday, September 17 at 8:00am. Randy Kuehn was elected as Chair-Elect, and will take office as Chair from the 2011 KLA/KSMA Fall Conference.

Topic of program: Proposal that ITRT could fulfill its purpose by creating a collaborative—a website that could be used for a variety of purposes in collaboration: a repository for professional development workshops, presentations, etc., an arena for professional development classes (e.g. using Moodle), a place to share best practices, ideas, etc., etc. A useful model is the iCollaboratory at <http://www.icollaboratory.org/>

Respectfully submitted,

Johan Koren
Chair
Information and Technology Roundtable.
