

ST-2: Communications Committee Report
June 13, 2009

IN-FO-CUS has a new editor, Carrie Herrman from Boone County Public Library. It will resume quarterly publications this month.

KLA's web site has experienced access problems since the beginning of June due to virus issues, impeding both users' and administrators' access. A similar instance occurred in March but was resolved at the time. However, because the site had "suspicious activity" twice within a 3-month period, Google flagged it and is currently directing users to a warning message to keep them from proceeding to it. Google will continue to do so until we can prove the problem is gone. Rick Hogue with Intent.net hosts KLA's site and is aware of the issues. Potential solutions to this issue will be presented at this month's meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

Ashley Fowlkes
